No. 6001—San. 85-12-4, dated 10th December 1913.

In exercise of the powers conferred by Section 2 of the Epidemic Diseases Regulation, II of 1897, the Government of His Highness the Maharaja of Mysore are pleased to prescribe the following rules for the prevention of epidemics in the vicinity of the Cauvery Reservoir Works at Kannambadi. The rules will come into effect from the date of this notification and shall remain in force until further notice:—

1. All labourers and artisans newly arriving in the area will be kept in quarantine for a period of fourteen days.

2. If any person or persons among the new arrivals be observed to be suffering from any disease of a contagious nature, the patient or patients shall immediately be removed to the isolation camp for treatment. The contacts shall also be isolated and kept under observation, due facilities in respect of accommodation being provided.

3. The new arrivals in the quarantine sheds will not be allowed to visit or be visited by persons permanently encamped in the area, during the period of observation.

4. The Sanitary or Assistant Sanitary Inspector shall, in the course of his daily itineration, visit every hut and report cases of illness to the Medical Officer.

5. In case of death due to epidemic diseases, especially cholera, all clothes belonging to the patient shall, if possible, be burnt, or if washed, they shall be washed in the house itself and not under any circumstances in the river.

6. Houses in which a case of plague, cholera or small-pox has occurred shall be disinfected chemically as well as by dessication and such huts or sheds as do not permit of disinfection in a satisfactory manner shall be destroyed.

7. Persons infected or suspected to be infected with cholera, small-pox, plague, etc., and persons residing in a locality in which such diseases have occurred may be prohibited by a written order of a Sanitary Officer from leaving such locality unless and until the Sanitary Officer certifies that they may safely be permitted to leave such locality.
